John Bullard Regional Administrator
Greater Atlantic Regional Fisheries Office
55 Great Republic Drive
Gloucester, MA 01930-2276

Dear Mr. Bullard,

We have collected 8,164 comments from individuals asking the National Marine Fisheries Service and the New England and Mid-Atlantic Fishery Management Councils to expeditiously move forward to complete the Omnibus Observer Coverage Amendment, without further delay, and urging that the amendment require mid-water trawl vessels to carry a federal observer on every herring and mackerel trip, without exception.

Please consider these public comments as you develop the Omnibus Observer Coverage Amendment. Thank you for your attention to this public input, and we appreciate your service.

Thank you,

Peter Baker, Director
U.S. Oceans, Northeast

Dear Messrs. Bullard, Moore, and Nies:

I am writing to request that all midwater trawl vessels be required to carry a federal observer on every herring and mackerel trip, without exception, and that you move forward without further delay in the development of the Omnibus Observer Coverage Amendment for the Northeast. Improved monitoring of this industrial fleet is long overdue, and the amendment should be advanced immediately so that the fishing industry can contribute to the management of its use of public resources no later than fishing year 2015.

Midwater trawl vessels target Atlantic herring and mackerel, but we know that they catch a significant number of severely depleted river herring and shad, and juvenile haddock which are taken as bycatch. Comprehensive observer coverage (with no waivers or loopholes) is necessary to document the high volume of marine life and its make up that is caught by these industrial vessels, ensure compliance with fisheries rules including catch caps and dumping restrictions, and improve the science that provides the foundation of effective management.

In June 2012, both the New England and Mid-Atlantic councils voted for 100-percent observer coverage on midwater trawl trips (in Amendments 5 and 14). This requirement has overwhelming public support, including tens of thousands of comments submitted to the councils. After disapproving these popular and badly needed provisions, NOAA Fisheries, the agency responsible for administering federal fishing regulations, committed to acting quickly through an Omnibus Observer Coverage Amendment to provide a mechanism for the agency to accept industry contributions to help defray the costs of observers.

However, it's been a year and NOAA has not even introduced a draft amendment to the regional fishery councils. Since 2012, the agency has failed to utilize available industry funding. The necessary increases in observer coverage now appear unlikely in the Northeast until fishing year 2016 or beyond. Further delay is unacceptable.

It is time for NOAA Fisheries and the councils to prioritize and complete the work they started. Please implement, without delay, an Omnibus Observer Coverage Amendment with a requirement to carry an independent observer on each midwater trawl trip.

Thank you for your consideration.
